DO YOU LIKE WALKING ON THE BEACH?
Come and help us save threatened species

BirdLife Australia in conjunction with the Normanville Natural Resource Centre is looking for some volunteers to assist with monitoring Hooded Plovers on our local beaches. This critical volunteer role provides the important information to act quickly and protect vulnerable nests, which in turn, increases the chances of eggs hatching and chicks then fledging.

No matter what time contribution you have to offer, whether it's a couple of times a month or more frequently: you can make a difference.

There are many activities you could assist with:

- Monitor a beach or pair of birds
- A national count once every two year in mid November (even years)
- Wardening busy beaches where chicks have recently hatched
- Activities to raise community awareness
- Helping put up fences/signs or constructing chick shelters
- Habitat restoration
- Data entry, writing media articles or graphic design

Whatever your skill set, there is a role for you to play. Please contact the Beach-nesting Birds Team at hoodedplover@birdlife.org.au or drop into the centre for a chat about the program.

Better still come along to the Hooded Plover Training Day on Sunday 15th September at the Victor Harbor Yacht club
Get involved in protecting your local threatened species!
Two Hooded Plover conservation workshops
Victor Harbor, Sun 15 September
Maslin Beach, Sat 21 September

The Hooded Plover is Australia’s most threatened beach-nesting bird. Come and learn about their amazing behaviours and how to give them a helping hand. All welcome!

BirdLife Australia and Natural Resources Adelaide and Mount Lofty Ranges “Sharing our Shores” team are running these free workshops.

Both workshops will have the same content.

Morning session: 9.15 am – 12.30pm
Join us for a delicious morning tea, learn about the birds, their behaviours, watch amazing video footage of chicks, how we help them, and come along for a beach walk.

Afternoon session: 12.30pm – 2.30pm
Come back for lunch, learn how to monitor these birds and become a Hoodie volunteer!

Beach trip included. Please bring binoculars (if you have them), drinking water and dress according to the weather (rain coat, sun hat, footwear etc). Beach trip includes a short drive to the site.
